M'CARTY CONFIDENT OF EASY VICTORY

Big Fellow Talks of Everything Except Battle for the Championship.

By H. M. WALKER.
By International News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Luther McCarty shows absolutely no concern in the coming battle of next Wednesday afternoon.
Luther is the original "Sunny Jim." He is one long and loud laugh from sunrise until bedtime. He talks of everything except the fight. He looks and acts like anybody else in the world except a man who is going to battle for the heavyweight championship.
The youngster was missed from his Venice camp this morning and after a 20-minute search it developed that the boxer was under a sand dune between two "kid" teams.
Palmer's disposition is entirely different from that of McCarty. He is quiet to the point of being surly and goes for hours at a time without speaking a word.
"That's the way I want him to be," said Tom O'Rourke, while discussing this angle. All great fighters were peevish and stubborn. Sullivan, Fitzsimmons and Jeffries were all that way. Corbett was the worst of the bunch. It wasn't safe to come within a dozen yards of Jim during the last week of his training camp. He was liable to hit you with the first thing he got his hands on.
"I like to see a crab. It shows me he is willing for a fight," Palmer acted as referee of an exhibition bout at a local theater between Willie Ritchie and Kid Dalton tonight and caused a tremendous storm.
The two big fighters did routine training work at their respective camps today. McCarty's injured knuckle has apparently healed but the big Missourian took no chances and used his left hand only occasionally in sparring.
Managers O'Rourke and McCarney expressed their willingness to place in the ring their fighters against Bombardier Wells for a July 4 contest at Vernon. Promoter McCarney is said to look with favor on such a match, and there should be no trouble in matching the winner of New Year's battle with the Englishman.

High School Marksmen Show Good Form in Work On the Rifle Target Range

In the elimination shooting contest for the selection of a team of ten members to commence the National Junior league with next month, the high school marksmen developed some unexpected material. The grand average was far above the high average of last season and all things point to a most successful year at the local school's range. Captain Mayes was not required to shoot, and the nine qualifying men follow: Pratt, 192; Melius, 192; Rydahl, 188; Barretto, 179; Siegel, 179; Armstrong, 179; Franklin, 177; Reynolds, 174; Macfarlane, 172.
For winning this contest Pratt will receive a bronze medal from the National Rifle Association of America. It is one of the highest honors attainable in the Junior association. The team selected will hold positions until one of them makes a poor score. Then some member of the squad not at present on the team, but recommended by the instructor, will meet the delinquent in a match, the winner to be placed on the team. These change may take place weekly, or whenever a low individual score makes a change desirable. Such an arrangement keeps the boys at top speed all season and assures the highest efficiency in important contests.
The National championship, the Astor cup match, and the Inter-city high school tournament are some of the contests entered by the local school outside of the race for the city title.

CHANCE ASKS GREAT PRICE FOR SERVICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Frank Chance will not manage the New York American league club unless he receives the salary he demands and a percentage of the club's profits. The salary, he says, is the highest ever demanded by a manager of a ball club.
In a letter today to Charles Williams, treasurer of the New York American league club, Chance gave the news of his negotiations with Frank Farrell, owner of the New York club. Chance wrote that he really intended to leave the American league, but since given the opportunity to manage the Highlanders, "he wants enough money to make it worth while."
"I do not think I will get what I have asked for," writes Chance. "My price is steep, in fact, the highest ever demanded by a manager, but I intend to quit the game and now I want to make it worth while. It is a good bet, though, that I will be right out here on my ranch this summer instead of on a ball field. It is paying me better than ever and I am contented. Still, should Farrell grant me what I want, the probabilities are that I will go."
Chance added that he will not go east to discuss the situation with Farrell until the latter agrees to his terms.

GUNBOAT SMITH WINS FROM FRANK MORAN

Neither Heavyweight Shows Form Sufficient to Gain Them Consideration.

By International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—"Gunboat" Smith gained the decision over Frank Moran in their twenty-round bout at Dreamland tonight, but did not enhance his reputation to any extent. The contest in fact was voted one of the poorest seen in San Francisco in many years.
Smith was willing enough—that is, for Smith—but seemed unable to land in an effective manner. As for Moran, his specialty appeared to be wildness of delivery. He cut loose at odd times with shifts and swings that would have hurt if the other man had got in the way of them. Unfortunately, however, the Pittsburgh "hope" has a knack of giving warning when he is about to let go a powerful and as a consequence Smith, as a rule, was at the other side of the ring as the Moran wallopers plowed through the atmosphere.
There was just one point at which it really looked like a heavyweight fight. That was in the second round when Smith brought across his broad right swing and caught Moran on the tip of the chin, sending him under the ropes. Luckily for Moran, the blow did not strike very deep. It sent him to the floor on his haunches and it jarred him somewhat, but he was up again before many seconds had elapsed.

GOVERNOR INSTRUCTS SHERIFF TO WATCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Sheriff Harberger tonight attended in his official capacity the boxing contest between Soldier Kearns and Jess Willard, to which his attention had been called by Governor Dix. The sheriff received from the governor this afternoon the following instructions:

"I have just received from a responsible source a telegram in the following terms:
"A prize-fighter engaged to appear in a public contest at Madison Square Garden Friday night has made the following statement over his own signature: 'I will kill William Harberger if I can. I hope to put one on his jaw or into his stomach in the first round and shoot him as quickly as I did 'One-Round' Davis. I will certainly try to put him to sleep as quickly as possible.'"
(Signed) ALFRED KEARNS."

High School Team Wins From Salt Lake Gun Club Marksmen

In the first indoor rifle meet between the High School Rifle association and the Salt Lake Rifle club for the city championship, held last night at the high school range, the schoolboys defeated their more experienced druids. The Salt Lake club was handicapped by the absence of Louis McCormick and McCoskey, two of its best shots, who were prevented from attending the meet, but will take part in future contests.
The high school team defeated the Gun club last year for the city title and was a star team the year before, but did not attend school last winter.
Captain William C. Webb officiated at the shoot, allowing the shooters all necessary time and affording every convenience

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—New records for every mile up to thirty in professional motorcycle racing and up to seventeen miles in the amateur ranks have been made during the year, all the credit of which is confined to two riders, according to a statement given out by the competition committee of the Federation of American Motorcyclists.
The fastest mile during the year was 28.2 seconds, or at the rate of 13.3 miles an hour, by Ray Seymour at Los Angeles on May 17, 1912. It was on this same day that Seymour hung up new official records for every mile from one to twenty. The latter distance he rode in 12:52.4-5. On May 24 he broke all records from twenty to thirty miles, riding the latter distance in 20:21.4-5.
These were the only new professional records of the year. The amateur record of thirty-five to 100 miles, made during last year and the year previous. His time for 100 miles is 1:52.3-4.
In the amateur, Lon Claffin made new records from one to seventeen miles, his first mile in 2:35 seconds being only two seconds slower than Seymour's professional mark. This amateur record was also made at Los Angeles on May 17.

Willard Lands Knockout on Soldier Kearns in 8th Round

By International News Service.
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Jesse Willard tonight won from Soldier Kearns by a knockout in the eighth round, in Madison Square Garden.
Kearns had a handicap of twenty-five pounds against him. The soldier was too small for the giant from Kansas, who rushed his man from the start. Kearns was felled in the first and third rounds. As they came out for the eighth round Willard rushed clear across the ring and let fly a pile-driving right hander from his shoulder. It caught the soldier flush on the jaw and he went down like an ox, his head hitting the floor hard.
Kearns waited for the full count. At the count of ten he raised his head a little from the floor, but he did not have a chance to get up. He was assisted to his corner by Willard and his handlers.
Kearns, although built like Sandow, proved to be woefully lacking in ring experience. Willard proved tonight that he is a real white hope. Kearns rushed like a madman as the bell rang for the initial round. Willard towered head and shoulders over the ape-like Kearns. Willard grinned when the stout little Kearns tried to fight him off his feet. Just before the bell rang Willard toppled Kearns to the floor with a snappy right to the jaw. Kearns was up a flash, and just as the bell rang he was nearly dropped again with one of Willard's time or right uppercuts. Kearns went to his corner groggy and with a red stream flowing from his nose.
Kearns was all action in the second round. He rushed his man every time he rushed with his fists. Several times he rattled Jess with haymakers. Willard had difficulty in finding his man because of Kearns' short build. The soldier did well in this round.
In the third the soldier went through a real battle. Willard was at him like a fury. Jess never let up on the smaller man. Every time he connected with the soldier's jaw the latter rocked. Willard felled his man cleanly just before the round ended. As he started for his corner he fell forward on his hands and knees from sheer weakness.
He just did manage to reach his corner unassisted.
In the fourth the soldier ran like a deer. In truth, he had to. The Kansas cowboy was after him on the dead leap. After a stiff beating the soldier was nailed on the jaw and nearly dropped again. He was suspended by the corner each round that spelled all sorts of trouble for the soldier.
In the fifth Kearns was the stronger of the two. The little man of the brass buttons had the cowboy winded, though he lost his chance in not crowding his man enough. Willard was open mouthed and had the steam left. It was a slow round, with both men willing to rest a bit.
The seventh was a good session for Kearns. He finished like a major. The lanky cowboy was thoroughly winded at the end of this round. The lighter man after getting a jolt, finally hooked Jess on the jaw and Jess looked sick.
But he wasn't so in the eighth. The round had hardly begun before the salt lake soldier was a flattened, beaten man.

Lieutenant Nelly Chosen on National Football Committee

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The seventh annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic association ended its session at the Hotel Astor tonight, after electing officers for next year. Lebaron R. Briggs of Harvard was elected president to succeed Major Palmer R. Pierce of the United States army. Professor T. L. Moran of Purdue university, vice president, and Professor F. W. Nicholson, secretary, were re-elected. The meeting opened air in the morning with Dean Briggs in the chair, who welcomed the seventy delegates in a short speech, which he warned them against the danger of introducing professional baseball methods into college athletics.
At a meeting of the executive committee, it was decided to hold the next meeting on December 30, 1913, but did not decide upon the place of meeting. Chicago made a bid for the convention but the offer was rejected.
Only one change was made in the football committee. Lieutenant H. M. Nelly of West Point being elected to succeed Lieutenant V. W. Cooper, who is abroad. The other members are E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, Dr. J. A. Easton of Harvard, President I. H. Savage of Oberlin, Dr. H. L. Williams of Minnesota and Professor S. C. Williams of Ohio State university.
The track committee appointed consisted of H. W. Marvel of Brown, Dr. W. A. Lambeth of Virginia and Frank R. Castleman of Colorado.
